Auto CBG Nectar

BUY NOW

Although CBG (cannabigerol) can be found in cannabis strains it's usually in very small quantities compared to CBD and THC which a plant can produce in abundance. In recent studies CBG has shown huge potential and could be the most therapeutic of all cannabinoids. As with CBD (cannabidiol), CBG has an array of therapeutic value without intoxicating effects but is generally expensive due to the difficulty of producing it.

These cannabis seeds are pure nectar from the gods with a CBG content of 11% and strong citric terpenes inherited from Juanita, we believe this is probably the best medicinal strain available and with almost 1:1 CBG:CBD currently no other strain is comparable.
